

PAMREX and VIATOP 800 manhole covers - Limitation of the streaming water entries

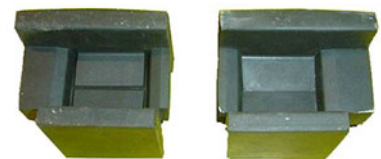

Tests of water entry on PAMREX and VIATOP 800 manhole covers showed the importance of the streaming water passage to the level of the articulation box.

In the particular case where it's desirable to limit significantly the streaming water entries in the networks, the versions of PAMREX and VIATOP 800 manhole covers cast iron cover non-ventilated with plug in the articulation box can be used.

Plugs for PAMREX 600 and 700

For a total watertightness of streaming water, only PAMETANCHE can validly be selected.

These plugs enable, from their design, to continue to provide the safety function even with the presence of foreign matters in the articulation box.

Indeed, the foreign matters can be evacuated through a double lip by the action of the hinge at the time of the opening and the setting in safety position of the cover.

The plugs of the limitation of the water entries are assembled in factory on the manhole covers which are identifiable by a sticker placed on the frame
